Explanation

Tomorrow Builder's Fellowship - The Tomorrow Builder's Fellowship is a project-based program that activates community members to innovate the systems that impact them. The inaugural fellowship culminated in the publishing of "The Playbook for Reimagined + Redesigned Early Childhood Education," a report of 17 community-designed solutions to benefit St. Louis area youth and families. During the process of curating the report, the fellows engaged over 20,000 community members. We are on track to achieve high impact policy changes that can improve family wellbeing through the ongoing implementation of the report's solutions. In 2021, we organized a diverse group of stakeholders, including city leadership, to collectively plan and reimagine a more equitable K12 education system that centered the wellbeing, academic achievement, and future of Black and Brown children. This collaborative effort was started, but then paused at the end of 2021.
